

Across England, the vacancy rate has

Qualifications, training and skills

We believe that everyone working in adult social care should be able to take part in